BUILDING NOT READY.

Important Cases to Be Tried Next Term Causes Haste.

Much Interest Is Felt in the Case of Prince, Former Police Captain, and Oliver, of Old Point—Other Important Cases to Come Up.

Col. George E. Bowden, the custodian of the new federal building, is inquiring as to the expense and how much help will be required to clean the new building. The task of keeping clean the new federal building will be a hard one, because the building has so many passageways, lobbies and rooms; and, being composed mostly of marble and stone, takes dust and dirt more quickly than wood.

Mr. Bowden has learned that it requires one woman to every floor of the Citizens' bank building; that, when necessary, the floors are scrubbed twice weekly, and that the women are allowed on an average $10 per month each.

Every effort is being made to get the building in readiness for the December term of court of this district. The court-room is all ready, with the exception of the opera seats for the spectators. The contract required that they should be screwed to the floor, but the floor is tiled. The seats cannot be screwed without first driving holes into the tiles, putting wooden sockets into them and using them for screwing each separate seat to the floor. As that would be likely to spoil the floor, the contractor is trying to arrange with the government to allow the use of strips of wood on which the seats are to be screwed. The idea is to get the court-room ready for the important trials that are to be held during this term.

As the day draws near for the opening of the fall term of the United States court, the interest increases, for not in many years has there been so many important cases on the docket. The first case to be called in December will be that of Frank Oliver, charged with the death of Miss Donati at Old Point. Oliver may face the death penalty. He is in Newport News jail, is nonchalant, and expresses the belief that he will be acquitted.

After Oliver's case, comes that of Michael H. Prince, the former police captain, who killed Charles J. Cannon in the alleyway between the postoffice and Citizens' bank building.

Prince will endeavor to show justification for the deed. The trial will be a long one, and a fierce legal battle will be waged. Prince is in jail and is seemingly in good health and spirits.

The other cases are varied, but each is important, and three weeks will be required to clear the docket.

FEDERAL COURT'S TERM. On December 4th Frank S. Oliver, formerly musical director of the Carleton Opera company, will be placed on trial for his life in the United States court here upon a charge of assaulting a child at Old Point. This will be the opening of the fall term of the federal court, and before it adjourns many important cases will have been disposed of.

After Oliver's case comes that of Michael J. Prince, the ex-police captain who shot and killed Charles J. Cannon in the alleyway between the postoffice and the Citizens' bank building. Prince will endeavor to show justification for the deed. The trial will be a long one. Prince is in jail here, and is seemingly in good health and spirits.

The other cases are varied, but each is important, and it is believed it will take at least three weeks to clear the docket.

A Special Schedule To-day. The Norfolk and Atlantic Terminal Company, in view of the fact that a reception is to be tendered the two teams at the Country Club after the game, has arranged a special schedule for today only. Passengers for the Country Club will take cars of Norfolk and Atlantic Terminal Company at Monticello and City Hall avenues (Monticello Hotel corner), transferring to "bus line at Bowdoin's Ferry road."

Cars will leave Norfolk terminal at 6:20 a. m., 7:10 a. m. and every twenty minutes thereafter until 5:50 p. m.

Cars will leave Bowdoin's Ferry road for Norfolk every twenty minutes thereafter until 12:12 midnight.

The company will also operate its Moran avenue branch, commencing at 5:30 p. m. and every twenty minutes thereafter until 8:50 p. m. After 8:50 p. m. every thirty minutes until midnight.

AWNING POLES GOING. Under an ordinance recently passed by the councils of Norfolk, every awning pole in the city must be removed by January 1, next. Already merchants along Main street are complying with the ordinance, and many of the unsightly poles have been removed.

By the first of the year it is thought all of the poles will have disappeared. The awnings as they now are—that is, those which have recently been erected—are prettier and easier to handle, and beautify the street to a large extent. The dealers in awnings are reaping a veritable harvest, and many advance orders have been given.

Colored Championship of the South. The game of football for the colored championship of the South will be played at League Park Thanksgiving Day between the Shaw University club, of Raleigh, N. C., and the Columbia Athletic Club, of Norfolk. Each team has been practicing at a lively rate recently and a close contest is looked for. Perfect order is guaranteed and it is probable that many white lovers of the game will attend.

Eyes Examined Free. Dr. A. Week manager of the optical department of the Gale Jewelry Company, will examine your eyes free. Defective vision and complicated cases specially invited to call. 1c26-1t

High grade underwear and hosiery. RUDOLPH & WALLACE, 333 Main Street. no24-1t

THE PENSION ORDINANCE.

FIRE AND POLICE COMMITTEE DECLINE TO APPROVE.

There was a meeting of the special police and fire committee last night, at which the members present were Messrs. Keeling, Pitt, Cashin and Oberdorfer. Those in attendance in conference were Mayor C. Brooks Johnston, City Attorney Taylor and Mr. A. E. Thout, police commissioner.

An ordinance giving pensions to the widows of policemen and firemen killed in the discharge of their duty and providing for half pay during sickness, has been under consideration for several months.

Last night the question came up on an amendment of Mr. Pitt, which had been offered at the previous meeting. This amendment is to the effect that there should be no pension legislation by the city, but that each case of injury or death of a policeman or fireman should be dealt with as it arises.

Mr. Pitt explained that he is not opposed to paying something to the widows of firemen and policemen who may be killed, but he is opposed to a pension system.

Mr. Thom spoke earnestly against the inauguration of a pension system as being likely to invite claims on the city.

Mr. Cashin was also opposed to beginning a pension system. He stated that a fixed amount should be paid to the heirs of a man or to those who were dependent on him, and that the pension should stop there.

The resolution was carried. That has the effect of withdrawing the ordinance that had been prepared and that was under consideration at the last meeting and of advising the councils that it is inexpedient at this time, to legislate for pensions.

If the councils accept the report of the committee, there will be no pension legislation, though all the members of the committee and those meeting with them expressed a desire that a sum of money should be paid when a man loses his life, either as fireman or as policeman, in the line of duty.

NEWS OF THE PORT. MANY VESSELS ARRIVE FOR BUNKER COAL.

The Norfolk schooner Frank McCullough, which was recently reported in distress on the Massachusetts coast, has arrived at Fall River, Mass., and reports having sustained no damage of consequence.

If the United States Naval Observatory wishes evidence of the superiority of this port over Newport News as regards tonnage, it would seem the Lambert's Point coal business alone would demonstrate the fact that the year promises to be a record breaker for coal shipments, and yesterday was a field day at the pier, as the following ships will show:

British steamship Chickadee, Northfall, Sabine Pass, for Cempack and West Hartlepool; coaled and sailed.

British steamship Headlands, Holman, New Orleans to Bordeaux; coaled and sailed.

British steamship Manor, Denton, New Orleans to Bremen; coaled and sailed.

British steamship Simonside, Newbill, to Zandam; coaled and sailed.

British steamship Angola, Caruthers, Galveston to Liverpool; coaled and sailed.

British steamship Saltwell, Howey, Ship Island to Bremen; coaled and sailed.

British steamship Merryweather, Bulmer, Galveston to Antwerp; coaled and sailed.

SECOND SOCIAL GATHERINGS OF Y. M. C. A. A SUCCESS.

There was a large audience at the Y. M. C. A. last evening to attend the second social gathering of the Young Men's Christian Association under the auspices of the young people of the First Baptist church.

The program, rendered with enthusiasm and each number received well-merited applause.

The program as rendered was as follows: Opening Chorus—"The Shepherd"—Tomlins (a) "Interpretation of Scripture"—(b) "Railroad Crossing"—Mrs. Ellen Moren McGinnis.

The selection of "The Reapers" was one of the most excellent of the numbers and was rendered by Messrs. W. E. Ellis, E. M. Allen, Misses Virgie Shaffer, Eva May Davis, Lena Epps and Jennie Cox.

Miss Grace Whitehead next read "The Minuet" and "The Maiden of the Bonnet."

By special request Miss Whitehead recited "When Jack Ran Away."

The chorus of "To Thee, O Country," was excellently rendered, and the choir and chorus of the First Baptist church ended the program, which was a very enjoyable one.

INSPECTORS ARE UNIFORMED. DON'T QUESTION AUTHORITY OF SANITARY MEN.

The sanitary inspectors of Norfolk have been uniformed. This is a sensible move, it is claimed, and will save the inspectors a lot of trouble and allow them to do their work much faster. There are four inspectors here, and before securing uniforms they had considerable trouble with their work of inspecting yards, since they encountered many obstinate people who questioned their authority to enter premises in plain clothes. Now it is different. The inspectors have uniforms similar to policemen, only on their collars are the words, "Sanitary." The four officers are doing good work keeping the city clean, and Norfolk to-day is perhaps cleaner than in many months past.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY. Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c. sell-8m

New Sidewalks Laid. About 250,000 bricks have already been used by the city in repaving sidewalks. The city appropriated $10,000 for the work, and the street, sewer and drain commissioners are expending that amount as judiciously as they can.

The repairs of the Church street thoroughfare have just been finished. The sidewalks of the street are in good condition now from Water street to Henry street. Various other streets, including Botetourt, York and Freemason, have been repaired recently. But still there is money left, so that other streets, including Cove street, will be repaired.

THE EIGHTH DAY.

The Fair Still Drawing Large Crowds.

As the Close Draws Near the Interest Increases—Many Votes Cast For Various Articles—Special Program For To-night.

Notwithstanding the other attractions in the city, there was a good attendance at the St. Vincent's fair last evening. Sax's band, as usual, scored a hit, and Mr. and Mrs. Suchon, a blind couple, who volunteered their services to sing, rendered several ballads in an acceptable manner and received well-merited applause. The ladies at the cake table announce that they have a large assortment of cakes on hand, which they will sell very reasonably, in order that they will not be compelled to carry them over to next week.

Sister Bernard, in charge of the fair, is very much annoyed at the little girls who solicit votes on the outside of the fair room. The girls are no doubt over-zealous to secure votes to help them with their prizes, but Sister Bernard does not sanction their action. Sister Bernard requests that all votes, while the fair may last, be cast in the fair room, so that all may have an equal showing.

The following contributions were acknowledged last night: Five pounds butter, Scott & Williams; two pounds candy, Mr. Drysdale; Norfolk candy kitchen, handsome cake; Miss Minnie Moreland, fancy small cake; Miss Lena Allen, coconut cake; Mrs. Hendy, plain cake.

Mr. Butt's table has received a handsome donation from Miss May Hickey. Mr. Schloss has contributed a ham, and from a friend has been received a box of handkerchiefs, two silk table covers and a dressing case.

Mr. C. A. Lewis, of Cincinnati, O., representing Heekin & Co., coffee importers, comes to serve the firm's delicious coffee. An especial invitation is extended to all to attend to-night, as the program will be a special one.
